DID YOU KNOW

DYK, No. 6, January 2009

Faggio Financial now offers Fixed Fee Engagements for Financial Divorce Advisory Services

Many of our clients have suffered through financial surprises - decreases of 30% to 50% in their investment accounts, home values plummeting by more than 25%, decreases in family income, layoffs, etc.

Unfortunately, when they enter the divorce world, they encounter additional surprises, one of which being the reality that the divorce process is expensive and one in which total fees cannot be predicted.

Now, when clients of Faggio Financial choose our fixed fee pricing, we will eliminate the anxiety of not knowing how much our service will cost. After the initial consult, our clients will be given an engagement agreement that specifies our fee to get the job done.

Faggio Financial specializes in providing hands-on guidance to divorcing individuals. We enable them to make well-informed decisions that in turn can lead to a more equitable financial settlement. We also provide explanations and solutions on complex financial and tax issues that arise before, during, and after a divorce.

For Mediators, we do the work that your clients will or cannot do - analysis of business tax returns and financial statements, and needs and ability-to-pay cash flow schedules. We will also co-mediate the financial issues of the settlement.

For attorneys, we can save you time and resources by gathering documents and analyzing information needed to prepare your client's case. You can rely on our expertise to evaluate and explain the long-term financial consequences of any proposed settlement to your clients. The result is moving your clients one step closer to reaching an agreement.

Call or have your clients call John today for an initial consult that will enhance your services and put your clients on the first step to a successful settlement!
